Internet Marketing Secrets Revealed

For your convenience this manual is divided into 6 sections.

They follow in sequence the audio tapes in the program you received, 1 tape per section.

NOTE: This manual is a transcription of an audio presentation. Spoken language is never the same as “written” language. Spoken language is always more fluid than the language of written literature. As such, you’ll find the normal idiosyncrasies of the spoken language... Sentences interrupted by other thoughts... ideas that may not be completed to their literary end... repeated words, etc. The authors recommend that you use this manual as intended, as a supplement to the audios.

If you don’t have the accompanying audios , please request them from
